THE NEW NU[illegible] HA[illegible]ISITORS.

Republicans Cl[illegible] the New Politicians Arriving Daily at Indianapolis.

Interviewers Only Conjecture the Nature of Their Mission.

Republicans Gain a Point in the West Virginia Recount.

The Official Plurality in Iowa Over Thirty Thousand.

The Pr[illegible] Fleet's Visitors.

INDIANAPOLIS November 28.—Every day now with[illegible] the arrival of a fresh batch of distinguished statesmen and politicians seeking their silverings [illegible] the big brick coffee on Delaware ave[illegible]nue. Among the president's visitors this forenoon was Senator C. B. Farwell and General Martin, chairman of the Illinois republican central committee. They came from Chicago on the early train and were accompanied by Col Fred Grant. The party made a very hasty trip, driving out to General Harrison's immediately after breakfast, remaining with him about an hour and a half, and on returning they went direct to the depot, embarking for Chicago at 11 55 a. m. They moved with such alacrity that newspaper correspondents had to throw on pocket guards, so to speak, to capture them, only to find them as dumb as oysters on all cabinet themes or presidential policy.

Senator Farwell, in telling his impression of General Harrison, remarked that he had a "big head and close mouth." The evening train from Cincinnati brought two distinguished pilgrims from Ohio in the persons of Hon. M. A. Hanna, of Cleveland, and Congressman Ben Butterworth, of Cincinnati. They had a conference with the president-elect at 7 30 this evening, remaining in consultation two hours. The well known intimate relations of both gentlemen, especially Mark Hanna, with Senator John Sherman, contributes much interest to their visit and lends color to the theory that the president-elect is making something of a study of the intricacies of Ohio politics, but to what purpose can only be conjectured.

The West Vir[illegible] Contest.

CHARLESTON, November 28.—The supreme court to day refused the attorneys for Fleming, democratic candidate for governor, a writ of prohibition, prohibiting the county court of Ohio, counting the vote of Fleet precinct, in which it is said the election officers made out returns in accordance to the law. This decision was one that was not expected by all parties, and in consequence republicans claim they have gained an important point in the account of the county.

The Vote in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Nov., [illegible] 29.—The executive committee completed to day the official canvass of returns on the vote for president at the last election. The total vote is 404,139, divided as follows: republican, 211,498; democratic, 176,922; united labor, 9105; prohibition, 3550. Republican plurality, 31,721.

The P[illegible] [illegible]ction.

CHICAGO, November 28.—The Journal's Washington special says: It is practically settled here that General Harrison will select some one from the Pacific coast for a position in his cabinet. That section of the country has been represented in the cabinet, and that recognition was due more to General Grant's friendship for Williams of Oregon, whom he made attorney general, than to the fact that the Pacific coast was of such political importance to justify selection of a cabinet officer for that quarter. But the Pacific coast has grown strikingly in the last ten years. Washington territory is now qualified and ready for admission, and when she joins the union there will be a group of seven states on the Pacific slope—California, Nevada, Oregon and Washington—which will demand very much more from the administration of the future than they have received from the administration of the past. It is probable that California will furnish a representative to President Harrison's cabinet. Among the eminent republicans of that state mentioned for this position is M H De Young, proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle. De Young's newspaper made a splendid fight for the republican party during the last campaign. In addition to the service his journal rendered the party he took a leading part personally in the contest. He contributed much to the fact that the republicans won in Nevada, and he aided the party in Oregon very materially. He is one of the few republicans in San Francisco who took their lives in their hands when they called the citizens together to enforce a fair count; and this is the stand, which [illegible] the democrats of that town that force to secure a false count would not be by force to secure it, broke up the plan to have England in and Harrison out. Harrison is a man of fine executive ability, of high character. Republican success would be well satisfied if General Harrison selected him for the head of the Pacific coast in which the Pacific coast is to [illegible] the new cabinet.

[illegible] November 28.—Indications are that the coming in of Harrison will exceed in [illegible] and display anything of the kind witnessed here before. Gen[illegible], adjutant general of the [illegible] guards, and other officers of the militia are in the city looking after quarters for their troops. The [illegible] have never been [illegible] heretofore at an inauguration. It is hoped to send a [illegible] brigade of [illegible] the parade of [illegible] of the state of the service to General Harrison's inauguration. General and General J P S Gobin, of the Third regiment Pennsylvania national guards, who are on the city said to-day [illegible] in addition to the large number of infantry sent here from Pennsylvania four years ago the state would this year be represented by a number of mounted men and artillery. It is expected that a large number of Indiana troops will come on including General Harrison's old regiment which it is said will act as escort to the president elect.

Hronek's Trial.

CHICAGO, November 28.—The criminal court room was crowded this morning when the Hronek dynamite trial was resumed. The first witness a detective, gave the jury the details of the confession made by Hronek. Hronek said many of the bombs found in Lingg's possession were made by a man named [illegible] bombs which he (Hronek) [illegible] gave the dynamite, which Hronek had in his house, some 120 sticks. He got from a man named Karafiat.

The state rested its case after the defense had cross examined Inspector Bonfield. For the defense, Hronek was put on the stand. He denied that he was an anarchist and said he had never been one. He had never belonged to an anarchistic society, and did not think there was such in existence. He then made a sweeping denial of the truth of Chleboun's story. Witness had always suspected that Chleboun was playing badly. Hronek also that he was present at the Haymarket riot, and as he had never been harmed by Rouchdi, Gary or Grinnell he had no reason for seeking revenge on them, nor did he ever do so. He explained the alleged visit to Grinnell's house by saying that on July 4th Cupek and Chleboun asked witness to go to the lake, where they would take a bath. On the way over Chleboun said he had heard Grinnell lived in a pretty park and suggested going to see it. Then it was that witness suspected Chleboun was going to kill us out. The trio walked around the place; but never said any thing about revenge. Karafiat he said, left a box of bombs and dynamite at witness' house in October, 1886, and never returned for it. After a while witness grew afraid and threw fifteen of them into the river. After a short cross examination adjourned.

The Coast Assn of Brewers.

NEW YORK, November 28.—The headquarters of ale and porter bosses, presented a lively scene this morning, when hundreds of men flocked in line to be registered to take the place of journeymen brewers, to be locked out. Men employed in various breweries were interrogated to-day as to whether they were ready to give up the union. Those replying in the affirmative were retained, while those expressing loyalty to the union were informed there was no more work for them. The number of men to be locked out cannot be ascertained [illegible] but it is thought a large majority will stick by the union.

The anticipated lock out of employes of the ale and porter brewers, it is said, has been averted. The [illegible] association meeting last evening announced that all of their employes have pledged themselves not to contribute to any organization engaged in the boycott. The association resolved that any man breaking the pledge will be discharged. It was stated by the secretary that only 12 out of 143 men had quit work.

Disasters of the "Great Storm."

CONNAUGHT, Mass., November 28.—All doubt concerning the loss of the steamer Allentown was [illegible] this morning. A visit to North Scituate beach shows the shore covered with wreckage marked "Allentown." No bodies have yet come ashore.

HALIFAX, N. S., November 28.—The steamer Worcester, which sailed from Boston for this port Saturday, has not since been heard from. The steamer Vancouver, due Sunday with Canadian mails from England, has not yet arrived. The weather continues thick, and a heavy sea is running outside the harbor. Rumors are current that the Worcester and Vancouver have gone ashore, but so far as can be learned they were without foundation.

NEW YORK, November 28.—The destruction by the storm on Coney Island will not be covered by $500,000. The sea broke with resistless force, and scattered piers, bath houses and summer hotels like egg shells.

A Mar[illegible] Contest.

PHILADELPHIA, November 28.—The jury in the case of Mrs Sarah Jane Whiteling, who has been on trial for the past three days on a charge of causing the death of her nine year old daughter by administering poison in April last, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree this evening after being out two hours. The crime for which Mrs. Whiteling was tried was one of a series of three with which she is charged, the allegation being that she not only murdered her daughter Bertha but also her husband, John Whiteling, aged 38, and their baby boy, William C Whiteling, aged [illegible] on which insurances on the lives of her victims amounting in all to over $5,000. The wife and mother subsequently confessed the crimes and said that she intended to take her own life after completing the deadly work with all the other members of the family but her [illegible].

The Parnell Inquiry.

LONDON, November 28.—Several witnesses were examined before the Parnell commission with reference to outrages in the Castle Island district, County Kerry. Maurice Kenney, a farmer, reluctantly gave evidence regarding proceedings of the local league, of which he was a member. He had heard the word "Boycott" used at meetings of the league, but he did not know its meaning.

Mr Shannon, a Dublin solicitor who is assisting the Times, testified that Kenney told him the local league had a list of "Boycotters" hung up in its office. "Boycotters" meant turnspits for roasting or boycotting landlords. He was forbidden to act for men whose names were on the list of Boycotters. The court then adjourned.

Revising Freight Tariffs.

CHICAGO, November 28.—The [illegible] officers of lines in the Transcontinental association met again to day. The entire day was devoted to revision of tariffs, with a view of securing greater uniformity in rates. No material progress was made and the meeting adjourned until Friday.

The Grand Army's Sympathy.

CHICAGO, November 28.—At a meeting of prominent members of the G A R this afternoon a telegram of sympathy [illegible] General Sherman. It was signed by the commander in chief, Wm Warner, Adjutant General Eugene F. Weigel and others.

THE RAILROAD TRUST.

Further Details of the Great Combine Made Public.

Rate-Making Power to be Taken From Subordinates.

The Scheme Received With Favor by the Railroads.

Engineers and Firemen Trying to Settle the Switchmen's Strike.

The New Railroad Trust.

NEW YORK, November 28.—The Sun publishes what it claims was an [illegible] give statement regarding the terms of the railroad trust. It says: Jay Gould has taken hold of the problem with evident sincerity. The Atchison company has been represented by President Strong, the St Louis and San Francisco road by President Ludlow. So far as necessary to secure co operation of the Southern Pacific system, C P Huntington or some one of his lieutenants assisted Commissioner Midgley, formerly supervisor of the Southwestern Traffic association, has also been an active participant in the conference. Under the inter-state law a pooling arrangement was out of the question. It was conceded at the start that all of the other old devices for maintaining rates were useless. Under these circumstances two points were speedily agreed upon. One was to take the rate making power entirely from subordinate officers of those corporations, the other to punish violations of the schedule tariff by summary and [illegible] dismissal. Upon these two fundamental principles a simple plan for running the records of the company business through a counting house was formulated. The three great systems refused to have agreed to put this plan into execution as soon as [illegible] can be arranged. The fact that some of the [illegible] granger roads occupy some of the upper part of the southwestern territory, while the Atchison system extends into Chicago, led southwestern managers to make an effort to bring about a revolution in the roads for the good of all concerned in the business. Before completing their plan they decided to submit it to the presidents of all important roads doing business west of Chicago and south of St. Paul.

It should be understood that all Pacific roads are now bonded together in a Transcontinental Traffic association, which as [illegible] is performing its functions most satisfactorily. Hence they were not included in the scope of the present work. Nor were the roads in the extreme southwestern states, as they have, owing to the impetus given to the work of improving, just revived the International Traffic association.

A few answers have already been received from companies to which the outlines of the new and comprehensive agreement have been submitted, and all of them have signified a desire to become parties to it. The three presidents heard from are those of the Union Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and the Atchison system.

NEW YORK, November 28.—Jay Gould and Russell Sage held a conference with representatives of the Rock Island road last night, with a view to securing their adhesion to the railroad trust. Sage says his scheme is meeting with general favor, and that it is the only practical one for stopping railroad wars. Jay Gould holds the same opinion, and that the plan will be eventually adopted by all roads.

ANOTHER PLAN CONSIDERED.

CHICAGO, November 28.—It was ascertained to day that the plan which has been made public of forming a huge railroad combine, to embrace all territory west of Chicago and St. Louis, with a clearing house for completion of business, and a commission of presidents to control rates, is after all only one of the plans that was considered at the New York conference and is not the one that was formally adopted, a plan that received the most favor, in fact, was a much stronger form of agreement and more severe in its restrictions as to the use of the rate making power.

The Switchmen's Strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 28.—The switchmen's strike has assumed a new and threatening phase. Traffic in the yards on the Belt road moved along with commendable regularity to day. Officials assert that new men are applying constantly. The situation with the strikers has become desperate and they must do something, consequently they called a secret conference last night with engineers and firemen, at which a very [illegible] favorable to switchmen was manifested. After a prolonged discussion a decision was reached which the striking men hailed with pleasure. In accordance with the action of the meeting a committee composed of representatives of the three brotherhoods was appointed to [illegible] officers of the various roads to day and request them to submit the matter at issue between them and the switchmen to arbitration.

This forenoon the committee called on several superintendents, and following its instructions no threat accompanied the request, and officials were left to judge for themselves whether refusal to heed it would lead to further complications. That they regard this phase of trouble as much more serious than the mere surface appearances indicate is evident from the haste with which they gathered into secret conference at the union station. The result of this conference of superintendents has as yet taken no definite form, for either arbitration or [illegible].

Chief Sargent of the firemen arrived this morning and joined Chiefs Wilkenson and Sweeney of the switchmen. Chief Arthur is now positively expected. Brakemen have been outspoken in their [illegible] day for the switchmen since the strike began. The number of the brakemen who have been discharged because of their refusal to do the work is said to exceed thirty and to be increasing daily. In view of the serious turn the strike assumes switchmen to night make public for the first time a paper they drew up and signed before entering upon the strike.

Germany and Austria.

BERLIN, November 28.—The Cologne Gazette alluding to the reported difference between Prince Henry of Reuss, German ambassador at Vienna, and Count Von Taafe, Austrian prime minister, says Germany regards with ever increasing disquiet the strength and significance of those Austrian parties which are hostile to the German alliance.

The Post discussing the situation in Austria, expressed a fear that the influence of Germany is seriously threatened and the alliance is imperiled.

Panic in a School.

ST LOUIS, November 28.—A panic occurred at the Blair school to day, and nothing but the great presence of mind of the corps of teachers prevented great loss of life. The steam heat apparatus got out of order, and the rattling in the coils coupled with escaping steam alarmed the children, who fearing an explosion started for the door. In the [illegible] and swarm of scholars, Miss Miller and Miss Krebs were badly injured by being trampled on. Seven girls were injured, some seriously.

Welcome Frost in Florida.

WASHINGTON, November 28.—Killing frosts are reported from western Florida [illegible] Alabama.

Surgeon Porter, at Jacksonville, Fla., telegraphed Surgeon General Hamilton that as frosts have occurred restrictions on railroads to the city will be removed so as to permit persons to leave the city, but that unacclimated persons will not be allowed to return until after disinfection.

It is understood the Canadian government will not accede to the petition of Montana ranchmen asking them either to withdraw or modify the nine days quarantine on cattle coming into Montana.

The steamer City of New York arrived at Queenstown from New York, met the American whaler W Martin on Thursday. The whaler's crew were starving. A supply of provisions was given them.

GUESTS OF COLORADO.

Six Thousand People Arrive in the Centennial State.

Cheap Railroad Rates From the Missouri the Cause.

About Two Thousand Stop in This City and Vicinity.

Representatives of the Green Mountain Falls Co. With Them.

More people arrived in Colorado yesterday than perhaps ever came before in one day in the history of the state. The exceptionally low rate offered by the various roads leading into the state, being only six for the round trip from Missouri river points, was the cause. All day long trains were arriving and Colorado Springs received a good per cent of all who came. There were four sections of the Rock Island excursion besides the regular trains. Each section was composed of from nine to twelve vestibule cars and each car was crowded. It is stated that there were fully six thousand people at the Union depot in Kansas City Tuesday morning who were trying to catch the first section out on the various roads. The people were so packed in that the trains could hardly be moved.

The Rock Island brought in about 1200 people, a large per cent of whom stopped in this city. The first section arrived about 10 o'clock and the last one about 4 o'clock. The Santa Fe brought its excursion in two sections in the morning, and the Missouri Pacific brought its excursionists on the regular trains. There are fully six thousand strangers in the state, at least one-third of whom are in Colorado Springs and Manitou.

All day yesterday the streets could be seen crowded with people going and coming. The hackmen, baggagemen and the hotels were kept busy all day. The hotels are crowded to overflowing and many were having a hard time to find suitable rooms last night.

It is a little unfortunate that they should strike just as the weather seems to be breaking up after one of the most delightful fall seasons in the history of the state. Still, it seems to be the fate of all large excursions to Colorado to meet with rain or snow. The excursionists will visit Manitou, Cascade, Green Mountain Falls and all points of interest to day and during the remainder of their stay, which is limited to fifteen days.

Messrs W. J. Foster and Charles Sprague, who have been east for the past three weeks working up an interest in the excursion, and also advertising Green Mountain Falls and Colorado Springs, arrived with the excursion Mr. Foster came in on the third section of the Rock Island excursion and Mr. Sprague on the fourth. They have travelled extensively through Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri and have advertised thoroughly. They say that the greatest interest is being developed in this country by the people of those sections. As one of them put it "the people are just wild" and Coloradoans have no idea how they are coming in next summer. They expect to take a good many of the excursionists to Green Mountain Falls during their stay, and will perhaps run an excursion to that point. The Midland will allow a one-fourth reduction on its road to all persons holding a Rock Island ticket. Messrs Sprague and Foster also made arrangements with a number of southern roads by which they will secure cheap rates for southern tourists who may wish to come to the mountains during the heat of next summer.

Debate in the Comm[illegible]

LONDON, November 28.—Debate on the Irish purchase bill was resumed in the house of commons this evening.

Mahoney, nationalist, moved last night in the bill of a new clause to the effect that the land commission shall take as security for payment by tenants of their installment improvements executed by the tenant or his predecessors in his title.

Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, opposed the motion on the ground that it would introduce great confusion and [illegible] because it was against the interests of the purchasing tenant.

Rejected by vote of 159 to 61.

Mr Smith, government leader, appealed to the house to assist in closing the debate on the bill. The government, he said, was desirous of meeting the opposition as far as possible and would accept a series of amendments proposed by Healy relating to sub letting to laborers, and also the provision that the land commission shall not sanction the advance of money to tenants unless they are certain the application of the tenant was not made under duress. The government also intended to promote a bill dealing with the registration of titles.

Mr Morley and Mr. Shaw Lefevre both expressed themselves satisfied with these concessions.

Mr Smith thereupon moved that the purchase bill be read the third time.

Mr Healy, however, objected on account of undue haste.

Mr Balfour [illegible] Mr Edward Harrington would not be arrested under pending arraignments against him during the debate on Irish estimates.

Mr Smith announced the withdrawal of the wheel tax bill.

Kilrain and Sullivan.

BALTIMORE, November 28.—There were rumors last night that articles for a meeting had been signed by representatives of Kilrain and Sullivan. Kilrain this morning denied that articles had been signed but admitted that there was some foundation for the rumors. He said the fight if it came off would occur within ten weeks near Chicago.

The Sunday Race.

New York, November 27.—For the third day of the walking match 19 men are on the track. They astonished early visitors by their splendid appearance. Moore bounds along with a springy gait and is spoken of as a possible winner. Littlewood, Hurley, Howarth, Cartwright and Gruilhon are by no means to be lightly passed over. The race so far has been phenomenal.

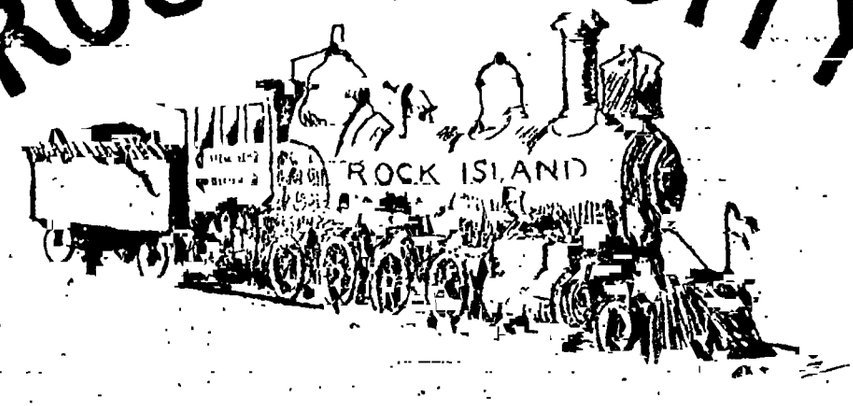
ROSWELL CITY.



GREAT SUCCESS!

The sale of lots now in progress in this new and thriving town is unsurpassed in the history of real estate sales in this vicinity. The people are beginning to realize that this property is just what they have been looking for all summer. Hundred of mechanics and tradesmen have bought lots there during the past week, on which to erect neat homes.

A SECOND COLORADO CITY

Is now an accomplished fact, except that there will be no saloons in Roswell City. The coming year will doubtless see hundreds of houses dotting the landscape which but a month ago was destitute of any sign of habitation. We want every man and woman in town that is looking for a home or investment to buy a lot of us. We are selling lots cheap, too cheap.

THINK OF THIS!

A House and Lot for $150.

Notwithstanding our enormous sales we have many beautiful residence lots left. Come and see us, whether you buy or not, we will gladly and proudly show you the coming city. If we had the space we could enumerate many new enterprises which have been arranged for during the past week.

An Eight-Page Newspaper! A Handsome Hotel, Etc., Etc.

Do not wait any longer. Seize the Opportunity while it is still offered.
Put Money in thy Purse. Invest.

THE GREAT TEXAS REMEDY.

Following up the discoveries of modern science, establishing the fact that the cause of a majority of the diseases which afflict men and animals arises from the inhalation of microbes, or bacteria, Wm. Radam of Austin, Texas, has invented the only method known to the world of exterminating them from the system. It is an infallible remedy in Chronic Affections of the Lungs Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Malaria, Dyspepsia, Skin Diseases, Fevers, and Infectious diseases in all forms. It is a sovereign remedy for diseases peculiar to women and to children.

As an appetizer, a tonic, a blood cleanser, it has no equal among medicines now known.

R. W. HAMBLY,
Manager of the GAZETTE.

The Washington letters of Frank G. Carpenter were an interesting feature of the GAZETTE last winter. Mr. Carpenter is now taking a trip around the world and we will now receive only Washington letters this winter. Mr Walter Wellman, late of the Chicago Tribune, has taken his place and we shall receive regular letters from him during the winter. Mr Wellman has for many years occupied a very high position on the staff of the Chicago Tribune, and will rank among the first of Washington correspondents.

The official figures on the vote of the entire state of New York for president and governor are as follows:

	President.	Governor.
Republican	[illegible]	[illegible]
Democratic	[illegible]	[illegible]
Prohibitionist	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

—These figures are significant and must at once dispose the claim made by Hill's friends that Cleveland was not knifed and traded by them. The fact that Hill is so far in the lead of Cleveland and Miller so far behind Harrison is overclusive evidence of a knife that was freely and effectively used.

Congressman Cannon of Illinois recently visited General Harrison, and was interviewed on his return with regard to the president elect's probable civil service policy. He said "Of course I am not apprised to state for Mr. Harrison but this I do know, that whatever his policy may be it will be openly avowed and honestly and faithfully lived up to. I can only guess what that policy will be, but I believe the civil service law, unless it be repealed by congress and I see no indications that any such action will be taken—will be executed in spirit as well as in letter. On going into office Mr Harrison may not make so many loud professions as to what he will do in this matter, as Mr Cleveland did, but I believe that he will enforce the law honestly. There are, many of us who believe, and who think we have good [illegible]

Mr. Cleveland sounded his trumpet as a civil service reformer, he has, while apparently enforcing the letter of the law, violated the spirit and somewhere between the civil service commission and the appointing power partisan preference has crept in."

CORNELL UNIVERSITY.

We have received a copy of the Cornell University Register, for the year 1888-89. It gives splendid evidence of great prosperity. That institution is now growing faster in every direction, than any other university, as the following facts will testify. The building for the Christian association, which was presented by the late Mr A. S. Barnes, is nearly completed. The large new building for the department of civil engineering and architecture which was begun a year ago will be completed this coming spring. The foundations for the new library building, which is to cost over two hundred thousand dollars, have been laid but the building will not be completed for two years. The building for chemistry and physics and electrical engineering is found to be too small. An appropriation has been made for a chemical laboratory to cost eighty thousand dollars.

The number of students in attendance this year is eleven hundred and seventy four as against ten hundred and ten last year. The increase during the last four years has been rapid, as in 1884 the number of students was only about five hundred. The number admitted to the freshman class this year was four hundred and twelve. In the post graduates there are fifty two students. The school of law, which was started only two years ago, now numbers [illegible]

We have given a somewhat lengthy notice of this institution, because it occupies a somewhat unique position among our colleges, and because of the great success of the experiment. The idea of the founder was somewhat like that of Mr Girard the founder of Girard college. But Mr Cornell was much wiser than Mr Girard and had the foundation of the institution on a much broader and deeper basis. Though Girard college started with an endowment many times as valuable as that of Cornell yet it is not recognized as an educational force even in the large town in which it is situated. Cornell university, for many years was perceptably weak in its medical department. This was of necessity the case, but they there were no steps of preparation for such as for that of the New England colleges. Its students were, therefore, not prepared for any advanced course. They were engaged quite largely in mechanical pursuits so that a Harvard student frequently remarked, "Spice of Cornell's best participation in the inter collegiate boat race that a crew ought to be admitted from Baldwin's locomotive works if one is admitted from Cornell." It is rather an old remark that a great university cannot be built in a day. It must grow. But Cornell has made wonderful strides, and in the last few years has strengthened herself where she was weak, and presents to day a symmetrical and broad a course in its academical department as the old colleges. The selection of President Adams to preside over the university has proved to have been a very wise, as the institution has run to greater progress under his guidance than in any like period in the past.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Sadie Hinch returned yesterday from Colorado Springs and reports a very pleasant time but says she prefers the Colorado of Fountain.

Our school is moving very smoothly with but few interruptions and by the advantages of a steam heating apparatus, has been enabled to purchase a very good organ and [illegible] 100 diameter [illegible] which is now in use by them daily with great interest and profit.

Mr. and Mrs Aaron Terrill, who in 1861 homesteaded the quarter section now occupied by the village of [illegible] on the Monument [illegible] were pleased with pleasing the improved appearance of things, fraternized with great interest the time when antelope and other game grazed on the surrounding hills and the successive watch cry of the savage was felt rather as a hoard. Mr. Terrill can [illegible] appreciate the contrast between then and now.

A movement has been inaugurated in the community for the purpose of [illegible] interest in the singing in our churches. Quite a number met at the residence of H. P. Bowers, on Thursday evening of last week, and had a pleasant and profitable rehearsal, and will meet again on Saturday evening with Mrs M. B. Cooley. This is a move in the direction of self improvement which is commendable, and now let us follow it up with the organization of a reading circle whereby we may derive profit and pleasure in our associations, and thus surround ourselves with an atmosphere of mental progress.

In response to an invitation issued by Mr and Mrs J. C. BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.
